

MAJOR'S RAP AIDS LOWDEN

MISTAKEN FOR THIEF, BUSINESS MAN IS KILLED

Police Shoot Him in Flight from Safe.

Charles C. Dietrich, 47 years old, of 414 Dover street, the auditor and former secretary of the Windsor Furniture company, 1420 Carroll avenue, was killed last night in the office of the firm.

A policeman, mistaking him for a burglar, shot him to death. Dietrich, alarmed by the policeman's tap on a window pane ten feet away, had attempted to flee from his seat just in time as he was shot in the back as he ran through the office's rear door.

The Windsor company had felt the loss of an inventory. Dietrich, secretary of the firm for ten years previous to Jan. 1, 1920, had been retained as confidential adviser. The new secretary, George Lyons, had asked him because of his long familiarity with the firm's affairs to "take stock."

Decides to Work Sunday. With a habit formed in twenty years' employment by the firm, he went to the office to work on Sunday. Throughout the afternoon he toiled on the books and as twilight came he went to a nearby lunchroom where he purchased sandwiches and coffee.

At seven o'clock James Versa, the company's watchman, reported for duty. He found Mr. Dietrich in the office, still working.

"Good evening," he said. "How's things tonight?" Mr. Dietrich responded.

A few words more, the ordinary conversation of the day, with a remark or two on the political outlook, and the watchman went to the basement, donned his overalls and started his tasks.

Watchman Makes His Rounds. Presently along the dark and deserted sidewalk outside came Elmer J. Bradshaw, of 167 North Elizabeth street, a watchman for the Chicago Protective Agency. Bradshaw paused before the window.

The glass was dirty. The old-fashioned electric bulbs within gave only a dim light. And half revealed, half shadowed, Bradshaw saw a man fingering the combination of the old-fashioned safe. He watched him for a moment. Then he turned softly and went to a telephone.

The desk sergeant at Desplaines street police station picked up his instrument. "This is Bradshaw, traveling watchman," said a voice. "There's a fellow working in the office of the Windsor Furniture company, 1420 Carroll avenue."

Police Rush to Scene. A driver squad, armed for action, rushed forth. They drove up to the deserted corner.

Meanwhile Dietrich had grown tired of his work, had looked his memoranda in the safe and had gone down stairs. "Good night, James," he said to the watchman as he passed out of the rear door. But on the street he paused.

Twice he had not looked the safe in any event, for a reason which has not been determined, he went back into the office and sat down in his chair.

These came a tap on the window. Dietrich looked up. Outside in the gloom were several forms.

The summons of Death. "Come out here; we want to talk to you," were police officers' said. Detective Sergeant Frank Lorenz.

Dietrich on another night months ago had observed forms like that which were working late. They had been robbers, on attacking the safe. But at the moment they had shot at him he had backed toward the rear of the place. And he tried that plan again.

BRITISH NAVAL GUNS OPEN FIRE ON TURK REBELS

Touzla, 38 Miles West of Ismid, Target.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—British warships opened fire on Nationalist positions near Touzla on the Sea of Marmora, thirty-eight miles west of Ismid, late Friday night. Constantinople was aroused by the heavy firing.

The Nationalists had approached the railway terminals opposite Constantinople. Many Armenian and Greek refugees have entered Ismid after escaping from the Nationalists.

It is reported that the Turks captured Pozanto, north of Adana, on May 30, taking prisoner a large number of French.

The Turks now are free to turn their entire strength in that area against Adana, Tarsus, and Mesina, but say they do not want to take these towns least they incur the ill will of the British and Americans.

PREPARES SMYRNA DRIVE

BY LARRY RUE. [Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [By Special Cable.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6, via Paris, June 6.—Friends of Sultan Mohammed are attempting the formation of a new party with the object of uniting the radical entente Liberals with the conservative Nationalists.

The organizers, including Mustafa Sabri, next to the sultan in religious powers; Vefik Effendi, former minister of law; Riza Tewfik Bey, former minister of public instruction; Mohammed Ali Effendi, former minister of the interior, announce the Nationalists' inactivity in the war and in the Armenian massacres are eligible to membership.

The radical Nationalists characterize this as an attempt by the pro-Allied party, including the sultan, to break the power of Mustafa Kemal Pasha and Enver Pasha. It is known the party favors the signing of the Turkish treaty.

Kemal Captures Towns. Kemal's advance guard is reported to have captured Lapenski, near Chanderli. The seizing of these villages is regarded as a preliminary military preparation to clearing the flanks for a Smyrna attack.

Irregular bands are pillaging homes on the Asiatic side near Constantinople. The American committee, for relief in the near east announces it has no intention of evacuating Cilicia and reports Mustafa Kemal has renounced the armistice with the French in that territory, which causes the belief more fighting there is probable.

Gen. Gouraud promises protection to the Americans at Aintab, where the French forces still are, it is believed. The general said evacuation was unnecessary.

Try to Make Greeks Yield. Grand Vizier Ferid is expected to leave for Paris this week in an attempt to compromise with the Greeks, who, it is believed here, have received more from the peace conference than they can handle, especially in the face of internal troubles in their own country.

Ferid hopes to induce the Greeks to lessen the Greek zone of influence in Adrianople to a line between Midia and Enos, they to agree to have the Smyrna territory governed by a joint Turkish-Greek army.

Following an ultimatum from 50,000 Nationalist troops that they would attack Ismid in three days, the British are reported evacuating that city. Owing to the drain on British troops for the occupation of Baidun, where trouble is anticipated, London has reduced the Ismid garrison from 40,000 to 5,000.

THE RESTLESS AGE

Tom and "Sister" settled back in the taxi as it threaded its way through the swirl of traffic. Her eyes were sparkling. "This is going to be such fun!" she exclaimed. "I love adventures! Here we are, you and I, strangers and alone in the great city, with hours ahead of us. We're in the lap of the gods, let come what may."

"Where does all the money come from?" he said, wondering. "Everybody's hatching about high prices and everybody's buying like mad. I'll bet there are a lot of folks running cars who can't afford it. I've seen at least a million cars since noon, and, believe me, I know what it costs to run a car these days."

"What makes of car have you?" asked "Sister," quickly. "Here was a chance to get a line on his financial rating. The make of cars was her Bradstreet, the barometer by which she appraised the probable bank accounts of those she met."

She wondered what the other car was. Two cars! That sounded pleasantly solvent. From the corner of her eyes she studied his strong, unburned face, and when its lines hardened a little her watchful eyes were quick to note the change.

"What are you thinking about?" she asked. "You're not repenting of our adventure already, are you?" "I'm sorry," he said, "but just look! Men, men, men everywhere. Crowds of 'em standing in line before a theater, crowds of 'em watching a sign painter, more crowds watching a safe being lowered. And yet they say America has no leisure class!"

"Yes, but what of that?" she asked. "You always see crowds like that in the cities, don't you?" "I suppose so, but just now out in the country the farmers are praying for men to help with the crops that are to feed all these idle men. Next winter, when food is scarce and expensive, these birds will be yelling themselves hoarse at the high prices."

She nodded gravely, as if interested and impressed, but within, she was irritated that his thoughts persisted in an economic view rather than in one more complimentary to herself and more promising to her purposes.

50 DELEGATES VOLUNTEER AID TO ILLINOISAN

Sherman Will Be Elected Tonight.

Mayor Thompson last night took the field in the open against Gov. Lowden. He was at the forefront of an earnestly working and formidable squadron of city hall employees that worked overtime in the Congress hotel lobby. Their job was to buttonhole delegates for the purpose of giving to them an earful of the "Lowden will lose Illinois" if nominated.

The Thompson-Lowden warring crew began to show in the corridors about 10:30 o'clock. The chief point urged was that the Thompson-Lowden organization now controls Cook county Republican politics. All of the changes were rung on the pluralities that have been put into the official records as to the mayor's accomplishments in recent primary fights. The veiled threat seemed to be everywhere present that this plurality could not be delivered to Lowden, were he the presidential nominee.

Defeats Own Purpose. Judgment of skilled national convention politicians was that for every vote that the mayor and his cohorts sought to remove from the governor three were added to the Lowden column. In cold figures, following the mayor's "bolt" from Lowden, more than fifty uncommitted and unpledged delegates voluntarily called upon Gov. Lowden yesterday and assured him that the mayor's antagonism makes them Lowden supporters to the finish.

"If you are good enough to earn the enmity of Mayor Thompson you are good enough for us, because we want a real American for president." That was the substance of the usual comment of the more than fifty individual delegates from more than a dozen different states as they proffered their aid to the chief executive of Illinois.

Hammer Acts as Horn. The general opinion was that when Mayor Thompson—forgetting his famous motto—reached for a hammer to strike a redoubtable blow at Gov. Lowden, it seems he made a trifling mistake. It was a horn that he grasped, and when he struck it tumbled vigorously.

The mayor held a caucus of his friends in the city hall and claimed to have snatched twenty-four delegates away from Lowden. Their names were withheld. The fact is that the mayor may be able to swing a fraction of nineteen votes, but that maximum is uncertain and quite cold.

Meantime Senator Lawrence T. Sherman is "sitting pretty." He will be elected national committeeman to succeed Mayor William Hall Thompson this evening. He whipped the mayor Saturday. The mayor found out the facts, and consequently quit cold.

Convention News in Brief

Gov. Lowden gains 50 delegates during day as result of opposition of Mayor Thompson. Senator Sherman to be elected national committeeman of Illinois to-night, following withdrawal of Mayor Thompson. Lowden boosters meet and hear Senator Sherman attack Thompson's war record and defy him to fight in state. Eight states and Porto Rico hold caucuses and elect officers and committee members. Oregon caucus develops hot from Johnson instructions. Wilson's retention of autocratic powers affords new platform plank. Anti-strike plank included in preliminary platform draft. Senators Lodge and Borah, opponents on league of nations, arrive, and Nicholas Murray Butler renews challenge to floor fight on league. Johnson forces pleased by North Carolina victory. Claim state's 22 votes.

'SPONGE SQUAD' DRIES UP JOY OF BAY STATE MEN

Raid Train at Detroit; Search Delegates. Maj. A. V. Dairymple has "done it" again. A week ago the Massachusetts delegation hither departed from Boston for the Chicago convention. The famous song, "How Dry I Am," was missing from their program.

The trip across was enlivened by good cheer and jollity. The hilarity was continuous—until they came to Detroit. As the train stood in the station numerous stern visaged gentlemen with a greatly developed sense of small quietude cooped into the various cars. They slipped back their lapels and disclosed the little insignia that identifies the booze sleuths.

Search the Delegation. "Suffering cats" gasped many gentlemen as sundry flasks and bottles began sliding down from the cushions. To no avail. Each man—think of it—of the Massachusetts merry makers stood upon his feet in the aisle. And horrors! They were searched! The liquid loot, they say, was quite considerable. From angry demands as to authority, the Massachusetts delegation turned to fearful protestation. How could they cross the terrible desert between Detroit and Chicago without something to drink?

Many Needed Medicine. They appealed to the head of the Detroit sponge squad. When he arrived he found that nearly every member of the party was suffering from an incurable disease that necessitated prompt, immediate, and continuous doses of that medicine called "spiritus frumenti."

Part of the hip stock was returned to them, the rest was confiscated, and the delegation arrived in Chicago in fairly good health. Maj. Dairymple, called on his phone last night, professed ignorance of the raid. "I haven't heard from the Detroit officers," he said, "but they have orders to search and arrest every one suspected of violating the prohibition laws. And orders is orders, you know."

POLITICO-VANE POINTS LOWDEN; GAINS IN EAST

"Nobody Knows" Is New G.O.P. Anthem.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS. "Nobody Knows" as a convention anthem, has crowded "Hall, Hall, the Gang," and "Onward, Christian Soldiers" off the boards. Candidates, managers, committeemen, and delegates were still swimming in a sea of doubt yesterday, and for the first time in thirty-two years the Sunday before a G. O. P. national powwow found the old timers unable to get a real line on the candidate who would land on the ticket.

In the lobbies there was a toasting up of hands, and none of the wise birds hazarded a forecast. Managers in every camp, of course, smiled genially and said "our candidate" will be the winner, but so far as having a real tab on the delegates, who in turn have the votes, the managers know about as much as the outsider. "Nobody knows" was the slogan.

"All is chaos," said Murray Crane, oracle of the Old Guard, which this time is shot to pieces. He expressed it. Some Signs of the Day. The day's developments, however, did indicate some discernible tendencies. They were:

The episode of Mayor Thompson and his toasting up of the sponge for national committeemen after a count of noses showed he would lose was held to have strengthened Gov. Lowden, who has made a "no compromise" fight against Thompsonism. Incoming delegations from the prairies indicated Lowden's candidacy has not been impaired by the matter of the two Missouri delegates who sailed away funds given them to organize for the primary fight.

Hiram Johnson is ready to show the world at his Auditorium meeting tonight that his radicalism is not as radical as painted. Gov. Sprague's candidacy takes on sudden life under leadership of Gen. W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad. Kentucky delegates, unimpaired, say they will give Lowden at the outset as many votes as Mayor Thompson takes away from the governor.

Ogden L. Mills of New York gets the edge on Senator Watson for chairman of the platform committee. A growing conjecture that the convention may not be so protracted as expected; that Saturday may see the windup. Wood Headquarters Busy. Gen. Wood's headquarters in the Elizabethan room of the Congress was the busiest place along candidates' row. Crowds surged in all day long. But the percentage of delegates was comparatively slight.

"The preponderant opinion still is that Wood, who is more than likely to have the largest number of votes on the first ballot, will perhaps be the first against whom an elimination squeeze-on will be started. This is quite questionable, however. Grapevine reports are that many of Hiram Johnson's delegates are not bitter enemies or last ditchers. As soon as they have satisfied their consciences by following instructions for what they deem a sufficient number of ballots, a break may come.

GOVERNORS LEAD DELEGATIONS TO G.O.P.'S BIG TOP

Special Trains Arrive from Three States.

Arriving delegations for the Republican convention kept hotel managers on the jump yesterday and last night. Some delegations traveled intact. From nearby states delegates came in singly or with small parties of friends. The number of women with every delegation was a noticeable feature of the arrivals.

Noteworthy among those who reached the city were several governors, including D. W. Davis of Idaho, Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky, Tom E. Campbell of Arizona, Oliver H. Shoup of Colorado, A. E. Sleeper of Michigan, J. G. Townsend Jr. of Delaware, and Samuel R. McKelvie of Nebraska.

Gov. Morrow is for Gov. Lowden. "I am satisfied," he added, "that Kentucky will return a large Republican majority in November."

New Yorkers on Special. New York, Massachusetts, and Connecticut delegations traveled on special trains. The New Yorkers reached Chicago at 3:50 p. m. The Massachusetts crowd came in on two sections which were delayed from 2 o'clock until after 6.

The Connecticut delegation and convention eighteenth number about sixty. The delegation is headed by J. H. Roraback of Canaan. Senator Brandegee arrived ahead of the train.

Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York traveled ahead of the special train, reaching the Congress hotel early in the day.

William A. Barnes was another of the New York leaders who arrived and immediately began to size up the situation. Other New York leaders to arrive were Henry W. Taft, George W. Aldrich, Jacob A. Livingston, and Samuel S. Koenig. They were met at the train by George Henry Payne and Lafayette B. Gleason, who had preceded them, with automobiles.

Frank Vanderlip and Senator William M. Calder were other New York arrivals.

Henry Cabot Lodge Here. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge preceded his Massachusetts delegation. He came from Washington with other New England representatives who have been watching affairs there. F. W. Sterns of Boston, an ardent Coolidge supporter, came on the special train. Speaker Frederick H. Gillett of the national house of representatives arrived late in the evening, accompanied by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho and Mrs. Borah, and Senator Selden R. Spencer of Missouri.

Others on the Massachusetts train were Lieut. Gov. Cox and Joseph E. Warner, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives; former Senator John W. Weeks, and Maj. Gen. Butler Ames.

Indiana sent in its leading political lights in large numbers. Senator Harry S. New arrived at noon and was kept busy trying to say nothing about his views of what will happen at the convention. Former Attorney General W. L. Taylor was another arrival from that state.

From Ohio came former Gov. Myron T. Herrick, former Gov. Frank B. Willis and Mrs. Willis, and Mayor John Calvin of Cincinnati.

Herrick Poised on Fence. Mr. Herrick looked about for an hour, then stationed himself in Harding headquarters. There he voiced the view that, so far as he could tell, he knew as much about what is likely to happen as those who have been on the ground for several days—exactly nothing.

"There is an indefinite dividing line in both the Republican and Democratic parties," Mr. Herrick said. "On one hand are those who would keep the nation snugly inside itself, and on the other those who would not dodge our responsibilities in other lands. "Paul of Tarsus saw a great light. That's what everybody here seems to be looking for."

Iowa Men for Lowden. Several Iowa delegates arrived and immediately began boosting the Lowden candidacy. Senator W. B. Kenyon and the delegation will arrive today. A primary election in Iowa today delayed both delegates and visitors. They will flock to Chicago as soon as they have voted.

Victor Rosewater and Mrs. Rosewater of Omaha were noted among the Nebraska arrivals. Several of the delegates from that state already are

WIFE SEEKS FOR HUSBAND; FEARS MENTAL ILLNESS

Benjamin Fletcher Jessup, 1900 Cullom avenue, disappeared Friday, and his wife has asked the police to search for him.

"He left Friday afternoon," she said, "saying he would return about 4 o'clock with money for the laundry. That was the last I saw of him."

Jessup, it is said, has been acting queerly, talking of going to the funeral of a relative yet living and of buying his cousin's farm in California, though he had not enough money. Jessup is a master mechanic. He can be identified through a large mole on the left cheek.

on the ground. The others will come today and tomorrow.

The West Virginia delegation, which is supporting Senator Howard Sutherland, its "favorite son," for president, made its headquarters at Hotel La Salle. Joseph Holt Gaines, former congressman and former Governor A. B. White, are with the delegation. Sutherland's name will be presented to the convention by Judge Joseph M. Sanders, who traveled with the delegation.

Northwest Is Represented. From Washington State university came Dr. Henry Susale, its president. With him were Judge Kenneth McIntosh and Henry Lindley of Seattle, R. R. Ellenwood of Wenatchee, and J. C. Tarbox of Bellingham.

A special train from Colorado carrying 100 delegates, their wives and friends, will arrive this morning. State Senator H. E. Curran of Colorado came in yesterday. On the special train are Rush L. Holland, Republican state chairman; John F. Vivian, newly elected national committeeman, and the three candidates for the Republican nomination for United States senator in that state—Karl F. Schuyler, S. D. Nicholson, and Rice Means.

Among late arrivals were: Mrs. L. A. Coolidge and Miss Coolidge of Walton, Mass.; Clifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania; and Meredith Nicholson, the novelist, and Mrs. Nicholson, Indianapolis, Ind.

SENATOR FRANCE AND "WET" TALK STIR UP "DRYS"

There was considerable discussion but no action at the Prohibition party headquarters yesterday. Plans are being formulated for an assault on the "wets," however, and the details will be discussed at the meeting in the Red Room of Hotel La Salle tomorrow.

Senator Capper of Kansas will speak. Arthur Burrage Farwell, Bishop Samuel Fallows and William Jennings Bryan were aroused by the arrival of Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, an avowed "wet."

"The liberty loving, patriotic and generous American citizen does not approve of the interference with his liberties that prohibition exemplified," Senator France said yesterday.

Swan, former cashier of the Cunningham National bank of Joplin, Mo., and a Lowden delegate at large to the convention and Chauncey Depew.

LEGION POST MAKES FIGHT UPON SHERMAN

Thomas M. Davis, commander of the American Legion post at La Grange, sent a letter yesterday to the Illinois delegates in an attempt to defeat Senator Sherman for national committeeman.

"We are not in politics," reads the letter, "but we will resent an insult whether it comes from a layman or a senator, a Democrat or a Republican."

"All replies received were respectful with the exception of that from Senator Sherman."

LEGION POST MAKES FIGHT UPON SHERMAN

Thomas M. Davis, commander of the American Legion post at La Grange, sent a letter yesterday to the Illinois delegates in an attempt to defeat Senator Sherman for national committeeman.

"We are not in politics," reads the letter, "but we will resent an insult whether it comes from a layman or a senator, a Democrat or a Republican."

"All replies received were respectful with the exception of that from Senator Sherman."

FOR "the June Bride"

Make Your Gift an Heirloom with an Oriental Rug

FEW, indeed, of all the presents bestowed upon the June Bride will carry their service and satisfaction into the second generation. An Oriental Rug gift insures the owner's delight of today and pride of the future. In view of the acute scarcity of Oriental Rugs in the Far East, due to the shortage of wool and the lack of skilled weavers, you are truly fortunate in having access to so wide a variety as our present collection affords. As direct importers through reliable connections in the Orient, we are able to guarantee as unquestionably genuine every rug we handle. We unreservedly recommend the following choice specimens:

SOME FACTS ON TIRED FEET AND PATHS TO A NIP

Convention Throgs Hunt
"The Man" in Silence.

BY EYE WITNESS.

At sunset I beheld two statesmen—
The first statesman approaches the second and remarks with a certain gravity, "My feet are somewhat tired."
The second statesman looks up with a faint smile and says, "I don't notice it is my feet so much as in the case of my legs."
If you talked with them an hour you could take you no further along the highway of destiny.

Even Hiram Succumbs.

When—'s Hiram, the history of endless hustings—succumbs to the power of prayer to the overwhelming power of vacuity which, in these moments before the big compound is to behold the development of the broods heavily upon it from the auditorium to the Blackstone—breeds these strange and somber vapors which they tell us, fill the tropic air before something is to burst.
There is no sign in Hiram now. He stands a limp hand and he says in a low voice, "I am very glad to see you."
He is not. He would rather be alone.

He would like to commune with the great uncertainty. Like everybody else he is groping, and he finds the uncertainty. If he could only stand and tell a sympathetic neighbor about the calves of his legs it would comfort and refresh him. But he can only surrender to moist palms and say over and over again, "I am glad to see you."

All Looking for a Man.

Up and down the senator's corridors through the senator's chambers, up and down the corridors and through the chambers of the general governor, move the self-imposed and the meaningless, all whisper about nothing, all starting briskly on errands that have no destination, all "looking for a man" who he can identify now and no existence and all, all, all, are waiting to speak.

In the deciding factor in American politics the 2 a. m. conference in the hotel room has been deposed.
But in their present mood these statesmen would welcome it, feeling otherwise they may be here till next morning, waiting for the compound to dehydrate.

Everybody shows a tendency to unite the word "where." Everybody enters a room, removes his hat, passes rapidly twice or thrice before him, and says "Where?" This is typical of nothing. The chill in the Married Next Month.

Frederick Johnson Manning. Miss Helen Taft.

Miss Helen Taft is to be a July bride. Her wedding with Frederick Johnson Manning, instructor in history at Yale, will take place next month in Canada.
Mr. Manning was a first lieutenant of artillery during the war, being a member of the class of 1916 in Yale.
Miss Taft has been acting president of Bryn Mawr for the last year. She was born Aug. 1, 1891, and is a graduate of Bryn Mawr. She met her future husband while pursuing her post-graduate studies at Yale.
The couple were engaged in June, 1917.

Among them invitation and acceptance are couched thus:
"Have you got a cold today?"
"I feel one coming on."
"All right; go in the bathroom."

Bundle Wrappers Busy.
While men who are to name names and make history wander thus, and wait, and nip, and wander again, the human brain continues really to function solely among bundle wrappers and electricians employed around the various headquarters. Festoons of lamps that will spell out names are draped from balconies. Bundles of placards and "literature" are wrapped and tied and hurried away. Full grown delegates, men of affairs, workers, want to improve each shining hour, look on entranced at this toll. Here at last is something doing and something to see besides other delegates passing their hats twice or thrice before their faces and saying "Where?"
Meanwhile the silence in the upper air grows very thick.

NORTH CAROLINA PRIMARY RESULT CHEERS HIRAMS

Returns from the North Carolina primaries held Saturday stirred Hiram Johnson's headquarters to keen elation.
Telegrams received from Johnson workers in North Carolina indicated he had swept the state by a large majority.
Although the primary results are not legally binding, the Johnson followers are confident they will get all of the twenty-two delegates from that state. As this is the only real primary held south of the Mason and Dixon line, they believe the results clearly indicate in which direction southern sentiment is turning.

The Senator Says
"It is safe to say," Senator Johnson said, "that I have carried the North Carolina primary, although the returns are meager. The population of North Carolina is perhaps the purest
American stock we have in America.
Less than one per cent being foreign.
I suppose tomorrow, however, they will be stamped as pro-Germans, Sinn Feilers, red radicals and pacifists because they have voted for me."
Johnson headquarters were busy priming the guns for the big mass meeting scheduled for tonight at the WOMEN OF G. O. P. ASK REAL WORK; NO CAMOUFLAGE

Demand Actual Part in Running Party.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

The Republican women will not stand for what they call a kind of camouflage that the Democratic party is throwing over the women of its convention.

The Republican women met yesterday at the Auditorium hotel and adopted resolutions, drawn by their shrewdest politician, Mrs. Medill McCormick, providing for action to get a real active place, and not merely a theoretical one, for a woman or two on the G. O. P. national committee.

"We can't get equal representation now," Mrs. McCormick told them, "but we can request the rules committee to change the rules of the national committee as to allow us membership in the national committee. It is possible to have a woman vice chairman of the national committee. The men created two places, eastern and western treasurers, for themselves. Why not have an eastern and western secretaryship for the women?"

Urges Equal Representation.

"Another thing, executive committee members may be chosen outside the members of the national committee. The women must ask for adequate representation."

Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns called the resolution a compromise, and said the executive committee was only a small part of the national committee. She asked for the word equal, not adequate. "So many men say that the women do not want equal representation," she explained. "We should let them know that we do."

The vote as to whether the word should be "adequate" or "equal" was overwhelmingly in favor of adequate, until after the discussion, when it was voted upon again, and the equals had it, 75 to 74 votes.

Committee to Make Fight.

A committee was appointed by Miss Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the women, to carry the news to the national committee, to the rules committee, and then, if necessary, to the floor of the convention.

"You know we have that right," Mrs. McCormick assured them. The women chosen were Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman; Mrs. Raymond

HOW REPUBLICAN WOMEN OPPOSE ANY 'PINK TEA' POLITICS

THE "anti-pink tea" resolution, drawn by Mrs. Medill McCormick and adopted by the Republican women's caucus yesterday, follows:

"Whereas, The women of America owe to a Republican congress, and for the most part to Republican legislatures, their impending general enfranchisement; and

"Whereas, It is necessary for the Republican national convention by rule to provide for the organization necessary to bring into the activities of the Republican party the millions of new voters; be it

"Resolved, by this conference of state chairmen, delegates, alternates council of 100, national executive committee, and other Republican women, That a committee of six be appointed by the chairman to present to the national committee of the convention the urgent claims of the women for representation among the officers of the national committee, and an equal representation of women as members of the executive committee of the national committee."

Robins of Chicago, Mrs. Henrietta W. Livermore of New York, Mrs. Mary A. Bessley of Tennessee, Mrs. Frank Dodson of Iowa, Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson of California, Mary Garrett Hay is an ex-officio member of the committee.

Mrs. John G. South of Kentucky urged her sisters to forget any little friction and unite for victory and Miss Hay told them to work with the men, not against them. She said she had organized thirty-eight states and not one was organized until the men agreed to help.

"Democratic Camouflage."

Mrs. McCormick warned her listeners that the Democrats are camouflaging when they say they will give women a fifty-fifty show.

"They were merely opening the doors for the election of a double number of national committeemen, and they want to make it possible but not compulsory that these be made up of an equal number of men and women," she said. The women cheered Will Hays as the man "who has done more for women than any other single politician."

PLAN TO RENEW CONTEST FIGHTS IN CONVENTION

Appeals from the decisions of the national committee in contested delegate seats from the southern states probably will be made to the credentials committee of the convention as soon as it is organized. The decisions were nearly all in favor of Gov. Lowden and Gen. Wood has stated that appeals would be taken.

Chairman Will H. Hays commented yesterday on these decisions. He said: "Half of the contests had been disposed of by unanimous action and the third day's session was far advanced before there was even a roll call. As I recall, there were only four roll calls on contest questions during the week."

Vote Upon Merits.

The diversity of the vote cast, which was 36 to 12 in the Tenth Minnesota contest, 8 to 24 in the Fourth Georgia, 16 to 29 in the Fourth Oklahoma, and 20 to 23 in the Missouri district contest in which both delegations were denied seats, indicates that the vote in each case was on the merits of the contest or matter as presented to the committee. It is significant that all contests involving large numbers of delegates were disposed of by unanimous and viva voce vote.

Mr. Hays presented a recapitulation of the decisions, showing how the vote went in each case. It was unanimous in the contests from Alabama, Arkansas, District of Columbia, Florida (except the Fourth district), Louisiana, Missouri, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma (except the Fourth district), South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

In sixty-three cases the contestants were seated, showing that the committee voted for the "official" organization in these various states, finding that the contestants had not furnished sufficient evidence of irregularity of fraud, or whatever the charge was.

Lowden Attorney Talks.

Charles E. Pickett, attorney for the Lowden interests in the contests, called attention to the record of votes as proof of the contention of a fair hearing of evidence.

"It would hardly seem that where the voting was unanimous that any contesting delegation would be justified in asking for a hearing of all this evidence before the credentials committee," he said. "It would not seem that the committee would feel the necessity of giving extended hearings. They should stand by the action in view of the spirit in which the committee manifestly acted."

PURELY PERSONAL AND NONFACTIONAL

EAMON DE VALERA.

A well known president who arrived yesterday was Eamon De Valera of the "Irish republic." In union with Frank P. Walsh, he enunciated that it was hoped to have the national convention artisans perfect a plank "demanding recognition of the 'republic'."

All presidential candidates will be interviewed as to their views, it was said.

"I'm going to tell you the name of the Republican presidential nominee," said the man with the black Stetson, the $20 gold piece watch chain, and the snowflake in his lapel. "After the balloting skirmish is ended they will decide upon Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas."

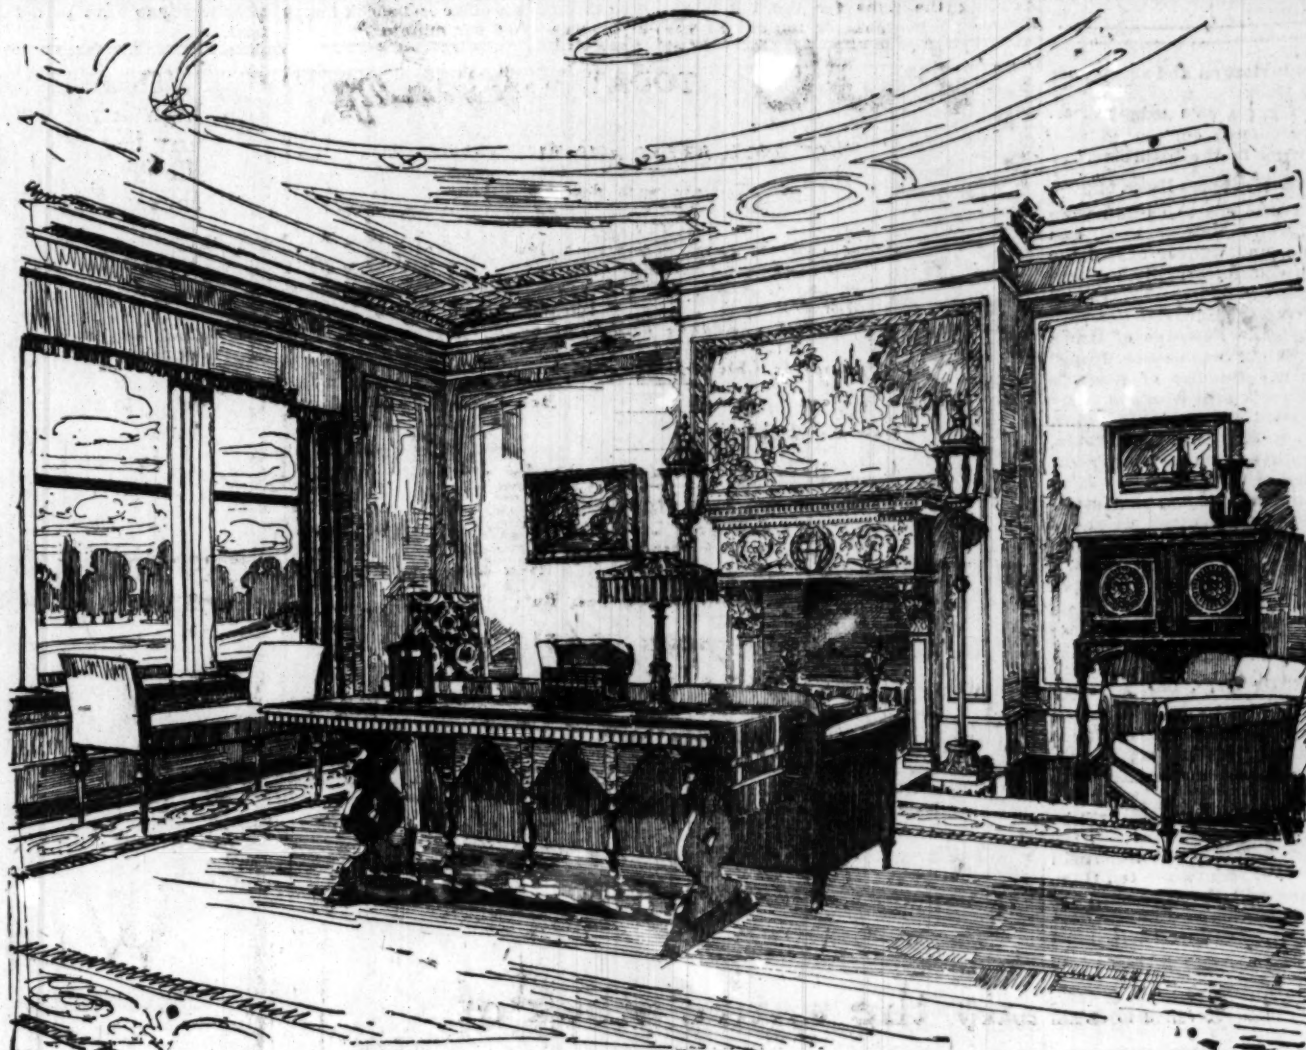

The speaker was W. P. Fleeman of Wichita, a sergeant at arms at the Coliseum, who has attended seven conventions.

Yesterday being governors' day, some thirteen of them arriving, it might be apropos to introduce Charles E. Morrow of Kentucky. He's not governor of anything, but he's a twin brother of Col. Edward P. Morrow, who is Republican governor of Kentucky. He is also a colonel. They are the only twin colonels in captivity, Gov. Morrow said.

The black horse was found yesterday. It was carried by Charles L. Burrell, former state treasurer of Massachusetts. It was an equine and around its neck it wore a purple ribbon with the legend, "I'm the dark horse; Gov. Coolidge."

When ye scribe visited the suite of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge at the Blackstone he observed the senator's feet were encased in a pair of last year's oxfords. "Yes," he explained, "I make them do by having them half sized and rebedded. It's remarkable what one may accomplish with a pair of shoes or trousers by proper patching."

Harold Simpson of Columbus, O., led the Glee Club of Columbus in a round of patriotic songs in the rounds of the Congress hotel last night, the burden of their refrain being "Vote for Harding."

You Wouldn't Want to Wear False Teeth, Would You?

Sound, beautiful teeth in themselves are no guarantee that the need of false teeth won't come later in life, unless "Acid-Mouth" is checked.

Mouth acids are comparatively mild, yet they are very persistent. In time they weaken the hardest enamel, and force cavities through which germs enter and destroy the soft interior pulp.

95 in every 100 persons are said to have "Acid-Mouth," and all of us should be on our guard against it.

PEBECO TOOTH PASTE

Counteracts "Acid-Mouth"

The best safeguard is to use Pebeco Tooth Paste regularly. Pebeco does counteract harmful mouth acids, and at the same time helps to whiten and brighten the teeth, benefits the gums, and promotes the health of the whole mouth.

Brush your teeth twice a day with Pebeco and have your teeth examined twice a year by your dentist.

RUSS REDS TURN RICH FARM AREA TO HUNGERLAND

Proletarian Czars Empty Bread Basket of Europe.

BY COL. HENRY J. REILLY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

BERLIN, June 6.—The traveler from Poland to Ukraine is immediately aware of the crossing of the border by the change from the sandy soil of Poland to the rich black dirt of Ukraine. This shows in the color of the plowed fields and also in the more luxuriant vegetation of all kinds. Ukraine is known as the black soil country and was the richest agricultural district in the Russian empire.

This is the country the grain of which Europe is expecting once it is again to commerce. This is the country the riches of which give the bolshevik their main argument for inducing other countries to trade with them. At the time of the Great-Litovsk treaty and also during the subsequent German occupation production approximately was normal even during the later German days, when the peasants had a large share of the grain, production was not materially falling.

Slumps Since War Ended. Since the war's end the country gradually has drifted into a feudal state of anarchy with a consequent decrease of production. Every village is armed to protect its food supply or to demand a larger price than demanded. They readily resist the attempts of any army or government to requisition their crops.

In their first contact with the bolshevik the peasants sold for small prices without difficulty. However, as bolshevik town control increased the ability of the peasants in purchasing necessary supplies from individual authorities, the peasants found they could get the needed farm supplies at enormous prices, there they soon were debtors. As a result they refused to bring their supplies to the town markets.

The food supply broke down speculation has succeeded it. This speculation continued while the peasants remained rich enough to buy at high prices to avoid starvation. It is important to note that under bolshevik division of the population into three classes only the workmen were entitled to sufficient food. The former rich could pay any price for their money held out.

Big Price to Rich. During this period the bolsheviks were offering the farmers only 50 to 100 rubles for seventy-three bushels of grain when it was possible to sell it privately for from 6,000 to 10,000.

Naturally the point soon was reached where the bolshevik obtained grain by force. In general the peasants were sufficiently strong successfully to resist. Also, many villages were too distant from the towns to be the risk of attacking. In the moneyed people diminished in numbers even the speculative food output gradually disappeared. As a consequence, the lack of a market, coupled with the virtual worthlessness of all money in circulation and the necessity of protecting crops and live stock by force or concealment, gradually drove the peasant to small production of crops easy to conceal and numbers of cattle easy to guard and, in Miss Jeanette Day is to be married to "Hip" Connel and her sister will become the bride of Gene Core.

Almada Asks Troops for Port of Ensenada

Calexico, Cal., June 6.—A recommendation that 5,000 Mexican troops be sent to the port of Ensenada, Lower California, was telegraphed from here tonight to Gen. Alvaro Obregon at Mexico City by Baldemero A. Almada, Mexican de facto appointee to the governorship of the northern district of Lower California. Senor Almada announced his intention to start tomorrow for the Mexican capital to discuss the situation with Gen. Obregon and Adolfo de la Huerta.

Breakdown of Transport.

The almost complete breakdown of all means of transport under the bolshevik rule increased the food difficulties. The rolling stock possessed was not sufficient to satisfy the army needs. Civilian freight and passenger trains practically were unknown. Use of occasional civilian trains was forbidden without special permission. The situation caused the townspeople wanting food to go to the country, taking furniture, clothes, and any other objects acceptable to the peasant in exchange for food.

While the peasants' houses are filled with such objects, they suffer from a complete lack of many of the necessities. They and their cattle have been without salt for so long that they now are giving anything for it. Manufactured goods and kerosene are badly needed.

The peasant has moved backward in many matters. The forests belonged to big estates. With division of the big estates the peasants, ignorant of forestry, cut more wood than necessary, without attention to growth and without replanting.

POLES PUSH ON; TAKE 2 TOWNS, PRISONERS, GUNS

WARSAW, June 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Poles, according to an official statement issued today, are continuing their successful attacks on the northern front and have occupied Glubokoi, sixty-five miles east of Sventigany, and Dvorchitsa, fifteen miles south of Glubokoi, taking many prisoners with guns and other booty.

The bolsheviks, to cover their retreat, attacked in strength, at several places trying to cross the middle Beresina. They were repulsed, however, the statement says.

"The enemy, with strong reinforcements, is concentrating before Bobruisk on the Beresina, eighty-eight miles southeast of Minsk) for an attack on our bridgehead," the statement continues. "A bolshevik column of Communists and marines was routed with the loss of four armored automobiles, a tank, and one big gun."

"Between the Dnieper and the Dnieper our aviators dispersed cavalry detachments and we won local engagements."

Reinforcements have been thrown in all along the line of the northern front and the Poles are daily regaining the ground recently lost to the bolsheviks, says a supplementary official communication issued late today. The bolsheviks are reported to be withdrawing across the upper Beresina river.

A Polish-American relief expedition train, manned by Lieut. Arthur Fox of Philadelphia and six soldiers, has been shelled by the bolsheviks on the road between Minsk and Bobruisk. All the relief workers escaped injury and the damaged train was rescued.

Medical supplies were captured by the bolsheviks when the Americans evacuated a sanitary station.

"WE LOVE HIM FOR THE ENEMIES HE HAS MADE."

When Tammany bolted Cleveland and divided the New York state delegation it was supposed to end Cleveland's chances. A favorite son without the support of the chief city of his own state did not seem to come into a national convention with strength. But the nominating orator uttered this phrase in peroration: "We love him for the enemies he has made." The rest is history.

There may be a parallel here. This newspaper does not commit itself to Lowden as against other strong candidates before the convention, such as Wood, Johnson, Allen, and others. But one of the valid arguments in favor of Lowden is the opposition of Mayor Thompson and the city hall machine.

The break between Lowden and Thompson first occurred, or first became open, with the coming of the lightning and thunder of war. Gov. Lowden supported the cause of American victory to the utmost. Mayor Thompson, on the other hand, adopted, and throughout the war maintained, an attitude which was extremely satisfactory to the German government.

When war became certain he described this city in public utterance, not as the second American city, but as the sixth German city. It was in such terms he thought.

As a war governor, Lowden made a record equal to any in the United States. He was deeply inspiring. As a war mayor we know of no other with so little enthusiasm for the cause of this country as Mayor Thompson.

But peace also has its burdens and its glories. We think Gov. Lowden is one of the best governors that Illinois has ever had, if not indeed the best—and that is saying something. We think Mayor Thompson is one of the least satisfactory mayors Chicago has ever had—and that is saying something, too, believe us.

For politicians there is one other aspect in this case to be considered: In politics Gov. Lowden has nearly always been able to trim the mayor, and he is about the only man who has. It was not until Lowden's friends had Thompson beaten for national committee that he "withdrew" and emitted his squeal.

As a squealer, Thompson ranks among the loud-est in history. This week will determine whether Lowden is to be the presidential nominee of his party. If he becomes president we believe he will be a good one. He is strong, wise, calm, not stampedeable, and a fighter. He is his own man. His campaign fund came out of his own pocket. He is liberal, neither reactionary nor radical. It may not be generally known, but it is a fact that in industrial aid humanitarian legislation Illinois ranks with the most advanced states in the Union.

If Lowden is beaten he will take his medicine with a smile and without a squeal, and do all he can to elect his successful rival.

Also, now that the issue has been clearly joined between Lowden and Thompson, we think that the Thompson-Lundin-Hearst machine is headed for the junk pile.

NATIONALISM IN THE PLATFORM.

A popular cynicism holds that there is now little difference between the major parties and that party platforms are only rhetorical exercises which no one takes seriously. We do not agree with this. On the contrary, we think the drawing of platforms, especially of the Republican, is a task this year of considerable importance. We do not refer to the confessedly delicate question of a plank on prohibition, which we think will be avoided. The general tone and character of the party utterances are going to count and we certainly hope the Republican utterance will be as emphatic and as concrete as possible. The national mood is seriously interrogative. The weakening of party allegiances and the shifting of party issues have been going on for nearly a generation have left voters without easy tests, and the war has shaken them with still greater force and given them a more intense need for leadership and for firmer footing.

Of course, the charge that the major parties no longer differentiate is superficial. In the main they differ as much as ever and they have today as clear a call to assert their basic differences, indeed clearer, than for many years. Mr. Wilson's internationalism and pacifism represent an extreme from the Jeffersonian tradition and challenge the vigorous nationalism which always has breathed through Republicanism from the time of George Washington to that of Theodore Roosevelt.

Generalizations of this sort perhaps do not carry far, deeply significant as they are. But a strong and sincere protest against the weakening of the national prestige and the national spirit by Wilsonian internationalism would express Republican feeling and give key to the course Republican policy will pursue.

There will, of course, be planks concretely expressing the nationalism of the party. The treaty issue made by Mr. Wilson's refusal to accept reservations will be fairly met and the principles expressed in the Republican majority resolutions will be asserted. We hope also there will be a declaration in favor of a Mexican policy guaranteeing protection for American rights in Mexico, as elsewhere, and we should like to see an explicit pledge to apply the Cuban plan to Mexico in case the Mexican chaos continues after the inauguration of the next president.

Although the Republican congress has not done very well with national defense in the difficult conditions now existing, there ought to be a pledge to restore our naval strength, now gravely demoralized, and, if universal training is not now politically practicable, there should be a pledge for the maintenance of a modern professional army and the further systematic consideration of an appropriate system of democratic defense. Planks pledging legislation to foster the development of aviation, both civilian and military, and the development of our merchant marine are really an essential part of any real program of modern defense.

It should be made clear, in short, that a Republican administration means a vigorous assertion of American interests and practical measures to give that assertion weight. This does not mean belligerence, or provocation, or infringement of the rights of others. It does mean that Republican statesmanship does not hold to the pacifist fallacy that to be weak is to be safe from attack. Republicanism does not fear that if America is strong she will abuse her strength. It trusts the American people more than the inclination of other governments, whereas the pacifism of which we have suffered for eight years trusts all the world except ourselves.

A PLANK TO LOWER THE COST OF LIVING.

That the Republican platform will contain a plank relative to the high cost of living and suggesting general policies for its reduction is beyond doubt. The universal demand for relief from high prices makes consideration of the subject certain. No cure-all can be offered, but the party can pledge itself to specific remedies for specific evils, which will do much to win public confidence in support of declarations which must needs be general.

The matter of an economical administration of public affairs offers such a specific case. A pledge can be made and kept to adopt a strict budgetary system for the administration of federal finances. It will be possible to eliminate wasteful expenditure in duplication of effort. A successful effort might be made, for instance, to coordinate the work of the twenty-seven separate federal agencies engaged in construction of public buildings, the sixteen departments building roads, and the nineteen engaged in hydraulics, rivers, and harbors work. Similar improvements could be made in other departments with an increase of efficiency and a decrease in cost.

At the same time revenue producing departments, such as the postal service, the customs service, and the internal revenue service, could be brought to increased efficiency with an elimination of great waste by a wise system of management. Pledges of policy to bring about such improvements could be convincingly made in the platform and would strengthen a general policy of reduction of the high cost of living.

In so far as the platform deals with general reduction of the high cost of living it may consider although it will not be able completely to dispose of such questions as taxation. There is little doubt, either among producers or consumers, that the present excess profits tax is one primary cause of high prices. With war debts and post-war expenditures still to be met, the government must keep up its revenue, but there is well founded doubt as to the wisdom of the excess profits tax as a means to this end.

We do not presume to write a plank upon taxation, but we can reiterate the statement frequently made by leading economists and practical business men that the present excess profits tax is a drag upon production. If 60 per cent of a factory's excess profits are seized by the government, the source of production is injured at its root. Capital for new enterprises is thus diverted and expansion of production handicapped. If, on the other hand, taxes should be levied upon private incomes to make up for losses due to elimination of corporation taxes, it would seem that industry would be encouraged to put its earnings back into an increase of production which eventually would bring lower prices.

The chief stockholder in a factory with a net income of a million dollars, for instance, instead of having that income taxed twice—once as corporation income and once as private income—would have it taxed only as private income. If he put $500,000 back into development of the factory and increased production, and kept only $100,000 for his private use, he would be taxed only on the $100,000. If he kept the whole $1,000,000 for the upkeep of his town house, his country estate, and the purchase of pearls for his wife, he would be taxed on the entire million.

There are arguments on both sides of such a great economic problem, but there are experts available for counsel of the platform builders who between them, should be able to suggest a solution. A direct effort to offer a solution of such specific questions, backed by a definite policy of economy in governmental affairs, will develop a plank which will strengthen the entire platform.

Editorial of the Day

THE INCONSISTENCIES OF A DEMOCRACY.

[Cincinnati Times-Star.]

Public opinion in this democracy of ours is not always consistent. It forces the enactment of presidential primary laws, which provide a vast machinery that must be lubricated by much money. Nobody can get through its intricacies and achieve a nomination unless he expends much of his own money or somebody else's money. And now that it has been shown that Gov. Lowden spent several hundred thousand dollars of his own money, and Gen. Wood and Senator Johnson spent several hundred thousand dollars of other people's money, a great hue and cry is raised.

Public opinion has prevented congress from purchasing adequate embassies in the great capitals of the world. The salary paid an ambassador is not enough to meet the rent of a decent home in London, Paris, or Rome. Therefore, wealthy men who are willing to spend their own money on the desecration of diplomatic appearances are, as a rule, appointed to our very expensive jobs in the capitals abroad. Any man of moderate means would emerge from such an office impoverished. And then public opinion cries out that a poor man never holds a high diplomatic commission from this land of the free.

Out of much public clamor seldom comes much consistency.

THE GOITER REGIONS.

It has long been known that goiter is very prevalent in certain parts of the world. In Switzerland, McCord and Walker tell us that it is likewise very prevalent in parts of India and Brazil. In 1915 it was estimated that one-half the people had goiter. In England and Scotland there are certain sections where the condition is very prevalent, going by such names as Derbyshire neck and the Norfolk neck.

Prior to the great war most of us had a notion that the American goiter region was the neighborhood of the great lakes, but beyond that we knew little about the situation. The reports from the draft examiners indicate that the disease is very prevalent around Washington, D. C., and in Washington, Oregon, and Montana as well as around the great lakes, and that certain southern states have very little of it.

Other American centers are portions of Montana, Dakota, and Mississippi, reported by Holder; certain Indian reservations, by Munson; certain sections of Pennsylvania, by Ashmead; certain sections of New York, Ohio, Virginia, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee, Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire, reported by Bucher; certain sections of Michigan, by Dock.

McCord and Walker say there is but little in the Atlantic states except in western Maryland, and but little in the Gulf states except Texas.

Various studies of groups of civilians to discover the prevalence of goiter have been made. At Albany, N. Y., 87 per cent of 3,872 school girls in the fifth to twelfth grades were found to have goiter, 60 per cent of the girls 13 to 20 years of age. In West Virginia, 5 per cent of 11,838 school children, boys and girls, had it. In Virginia 12 per cent of 6,432 school children were affected. Less than 1 per cent of the goiter is among boys.

In the University of Wisconsin, 10 per cent of the men and 31 per cent of the women in a student body of 3,339 had enlarged thyroid glands. In Chicago Olson found that 7 per cent of 11,838 school children, boys and girls, had it. In Virginia 12 per cent of 6,432 school children were affected. Less than 1 per cent of the goiter is among boys.

SOMETHING BETTER.

C. M. McC. writes: "Would you kindly tell me if larkspur rubbed well into the head is efficient, or can you suggest something better? I have used larkspur many times without success."

Kerosene and vinegar, equal parts, is better. Apply thoroughly. Leave in one hour. Wash thoroughly with soap and water. Grease. Comb with a fine tooth comb.

CAN'T QUIT SMOKING.

J. J. D. writes: "Is there any cure for the tobacco habit? I smoke a great many cigarettes and have tried to stop without success."

REPLY.

Write us asking for the cigarette cure. Send stamped, addressed envelope. It will come. Provided you are determined to quit your habit.

GOITER STARTING.

A. S. H. writes: "My little girl, 5 years old, has a goiter starting. Is there any treatment I could give her, or what would you advise?"

REPLY.

Have your physician give her about five grains of iodine of soda daily for two weeks each spring.

THE FRIEND OF THE SOLDIER

LEGION NOTES

TOO LATE.

Evansville, Ind., June 5.—[Friend of the Soldier]—I received notice from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance some months ago informing me that my application for insurance had been made after the 120-day period from enlistment had elapsed, and that I would be reimbursed for premiums paid in. Can I now reinstate my insurance under the same conditions according to the late ruling which allows service men to reinstate before July 1, and could I arrange to have paid-in premiums apply on the premium required for reinstatement?

J. K. M.

As your application for insurance was made prior to the 120-day period, your insurance is not in force and you therefore cannot avail yourself of the reinstatement provision now in force. If you had applied for this insurance within the stipulated period you would have been permitted to reinstate the insurance.

HANGING THE FLAG.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 5.—[Friend of the Soldier]—Kindly inform me the proper way to hang the "Stars and Stripes."

In the army I was taught to carry the flag on the right and back of the person in place of the left. As I formerly lived in Chicago, I remember you publishing this a long time ago and take the pleasure of telling you that you are right. What is the significance of such a button?

E. G. H.

When a flag is placed in a window it should be so placed that it will be viewed with the stars on the right and the stripes horizontal. The person hanging the flag will thus have the stars on his right side, while to the viewer it will be on the left.

HOMESTEAD AND QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Air. Arnold D. Collier has been in this office nearly a week meeting hundreds of ex-service men and answering their questions about the homestead lands open in Oregon. He will be here until Wednesday afternoon and any ex-service man who is interested in taking out a homestead claim would do well to call on him. He has been out there and has staked his claim.

Ask to see Mr. Collier, Homestead Land Information.

A BADGE OF HONOR.

Chicago, May 31.—[Friend of the Soldier]—Lately I have noticed that some members of the American Legion wear a membership button with a center of stars. What is the significance of such a button?

E. F. G.

The significance is the same as that of the silver victory button, indicating that the wearer of the button was wounded in action.

ALLOTMENT CHECK DESTROYED.

Chicago, May 31.—[Friend of the Soldier]—Some time ago I received my military allotment check, which I accidentally destroyed. It was in a letter and I tore it up while taking it from the envelope, thinking it was old correspondence. It did not take very long for me to realize my mistake. However, I said nothing about it, and now that my husband has returned he says he is sure that the government will make it up to me, as it will be nothing out of the ordinary. What do you think about it? It was for $15, which I would like to have right now.

Mrs. McC.

If you are sure that the check was destroyed no attention will be given to anonymous letters. To insure a personal reply include a stamped, addressed envelope.

GERMANY QUAILS AT GIANT COST OF OCCUPATION

40 Billions Marks a Year Probable Total.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
(Copyright, 1920, By the Tribune Company.)

BERLIN, June 6.—Is the entente justified in demanding that Germany pay 100,000,000 marks a day, or 40,000,000,000 marks a year, as the cost of the armies of occupation and of the several control commissions?

This question was asked today during unofficial discussions regarding the statement of the British government that the bill for the British army occupation alone would reach nearly seven million pounds sterling ($35,000,000) at the end of the current year. This led to the statement that Great Britain's bill is small compared to that of France. The associated total is expected to reach the figures mentioned.

Supports French Army.

"As a matter of fact," one official said today, "France is using the right to occupy the German territory for the purpose of taking a load off its own military budget. For example, it is maintaining extensive training schools in the Rhineland out of all proportion to the needs of the army of occupation. It is training officers and non-commissioned officers who never are intended for the occupied zone, but are intended for assignment with the expansion of the army."

And, in addition to the sums paid to the other governments for their armies, it is pointed out that Germany also must pay the cost of new buildings and building sites, as well as all rents. It also must pay for the furniture, heating, lighting, cleaning and repairs, all charges of the use of the railroads, telegraph and other means of communication and for all articles requisitioned from the population.

Rugs and Pencils.

"When there is a general requisition of several villas, when an officer requisitions 30,000 to 40,000 marks worth of Persian rugs for his quarters, and when a clerk obtains a silver pencil by the requisition route, so wonder the total amount is large," the official said.

"And, despite the large sums demanded from us, we are unable to obtain any information as to how these sums were expended. From time to time hundreds of millions of marks are demanded, but we have no evidence whatever that it is spent for justifiable expenses of the armies of occupation, or for something absolutely outside the intentions of the treaty."

Germans who will discuss the subject say that it is another evidence of the militaristic control of France.

CARDINAL HERE FOR CATHOLICS' DOUBLE JUBILEE

Church's Three Day Fete
Starts Tomorrow.

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT.

His Eminence James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore arrived in Chicago yesterday to participate in the double jubilee being celebrated by the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Chicago this week, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the diocese, and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Most Rev. George W. Mundelein to the priesthood. Cardinal Gibbons also will pronounce the invocation at the Republican national convention Thursday morning. He will be the guest of the archbishop during his stay here.

The Most Rev. John Bonzano, apostolic delegate, personal representative of the pope in the United States, is expected to arrive today. By tomorrow morning scores of prelates from all over the country will be here for the opening of the three day program of festivities.

Ceremonies Start Tomorrow.
The first event will be a celebration of solemn pontifical high mass at Holy Name cathedral at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The preacher will be the Most Rev. Patrick J. Hayes, archbishop of New York. At this service the purse given by the priests of the archdiocese for a building of the new university, and the laymen's purse of $750,000 for the associated charities, will be presented.

Quigley Preparatory seminary will be dedicated Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, and a sacred concert will be given in Holy Name cathedral at 8 p.m.

On Thursday morning at 11 o'clock the historical pageant-parade, given by 25,000 children, will take place. It will start at the municipal pier and move north on the drive to Lincoln park. There will be 133 floats, twelve bands, hundreds of automobiles and military units.

Floats Show Church History.
The judges who will award the prize to the best floats are Harry J. Powers, Francis Barry Byrne and Edward J. P. Timmons. The floats will represent important events in general and in diocesan church history.

E. C. Perring and Friend Rescued When Boat Tips

E. C. Perring of the Chicago Yacht club and Abel Fady were thrown into the lake yesterday when Perring's eighteen foot sloop Captain Kidd capsized before a big puff of wind north of the Jackson park harbor, and outside the breakwater. Acting Captain Conrad Olson of the Jackson park coast guard rescued the two men, who clung to the overturned boat.

$20,261,900.

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—The trustees of the general education board and of the Rockefeller foundation today announced appropriations which aggregate $20,261,900, for various purposes of general education and for the development of medical schools.

Increases of professional salaries and development of work in Negroes schools also were cared for in the appropriations.

In a statement, the general education board said:

"At the recent meeting appropriations were made to ninety-eight colleges and universities out of those which are under consideration. To this group of institutions the general education board appropriated for endowment to increase salaries the sum of $12,851,606 on condition that they would themselves reach the goal they had set and secure for the same purpose supplementary sums aggregating $30,613,334. Thus these colleges and universities, if successful, will increase their endowments available for teachers' salaries to the extent of $43,465,000."

"For these purposes an additional sum of $2,184,584 was appropriated, covering a period of one to three years, making a total appropriated by the general education board from Mr. Rockefeller's special gift of $15,038,090."

Among the gifts of the Rockefeller foundation were: Washington university medical school, St. Louis, $1,250,000; Yale medical school, $1,000,000; Harvard medical school, $850,000; Johns Hopkins medical school, $400,000; Dalhousie university medical school, Halifax, N. S., $500,000; various universities of southern states, $357,350; Negro schools, $443,500; American conference on hospital service, $15,000, and the national committee for mental hygiene, $25,000.

TROTSKY'S HAND GUIDED FRENCH STRIKES, CHARGE

Letters Reveal Plot to Set Europe Afire.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

PARIS, June 6.—On the eve of the second meeting of the British cabinet with the soviet envoy, Krasin, Le Matin makes a sensational disclosure of the establishment by Lenin and Trotsky at Amsterdam of the headquarters from which was to have been directed revolutions in France and other countries.

This movement was financed with jewels stolen from the churches of Russia and from private individuals. The revolutionary strike which was started in France on May 1 and which was so successfully crushed by Millerand was to have been the start of the French revolution and it is altogether probable that Le Matin has had the aid of the French secret service in its disclosures which begin today.

Trotsky Directs Coup.
Le Matin revealed that letters in Trotsky's handwriting, giving directions for the revolt and naming lieutenants of Moscow in the coup, were sent from radicals arrested by the French.

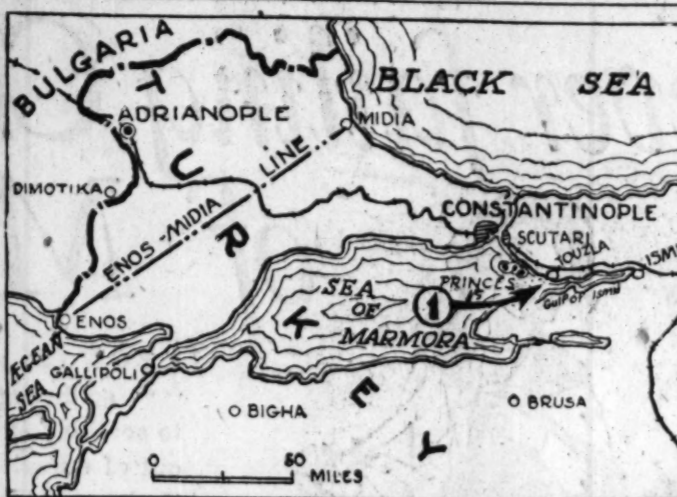

Le Matin describes the Lenin-Trotsky plot to spread revolution and says:

"But where were the great sums needed for this work to be found? The metallic reserves of Russia had been depleted. Where could new funds be had?"

"With Lenin and Trotsky there lived at that moment a Holland engineer, S. J. Rutgers, and Lenin and Trotsky turned to him. Rutgers was a communication with Dutch Communists who had at their disposition the newspaper De Tribune.

Gems to Raise Funds.
"And if gold funds were lacking in Moscow to pay the cost of the planned propaganda, there remained considerable quantities of diamonds and precious stones provided by requisitions and which if they did not have special value in Russia could, at Amsterdam, the world's leading diamond market, be transformed into an enormous fortune.

Mme. Rutgers went to Amsterdam and turned over the jewels to the Dutch Communist, Dr. Gorter. Three times Mme. Rutgers made a trip to Russia and returned. Each time she brought new diamonds, which were turned over to a member of the Communist party.

World Revolt Planned.
"Finally Mme. Rutgers returned from Russia with an official mandate from Lenin. She had a mission to create in Amsterdam a permanent secretariat of the third international, to enter into immediate relations with all Communist groups in western Europe and in America."

MEXICO MAY KICK 'YELLOW DOGS' OF U.S. BACK INTO U.S.

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

Mexico City, via Galveston, June 6.—The proposition looking to deportation to the United States of the large number of draft slackers has been put up to the Mexican authorities, who are giving the matter serious consideration.

These slackers, who fled the United States during the war to escape service against Germany number probably several thousand. Some of them now are prominent in anti-American activities in Mexico, while one of them, Linn E. A. Gale, formerly of New York, is now leader of the bolshevik element in Mexico.

In a talk with Gen. Obregon the New York Times correspondent suggested that the deportation of slackers might do much to win the friendship of Americans, particularly the American Legion. Gen. Obregon received the suggestion in a friendly spirit, but did not commit himself as to the course he may pursue in the event of his election to the presidency.

Much of the anti-American agitation and propaganda against America in Mexico is directed by these renegade Americans. Gale is continuing publication of the bolshevik I. W. W. organ. Gale says President De La Huerta is "reputed to be a real radical" and that at one time Obregon had the reputation of being a full fledged Socialist, but Obregon is no longer a radical.

Gale's paper denounces Gen. Wood as a brute, and as "Roosevelt reincarnated and considerably worse."

Senator Johnson, however, is referred to as a man of liberal tendencies, and as a man who is "in favor of free speech, and was against intervention in Russia."

father, aged and infirm, and his aged stepmother. Together they told of Dietrich and of his brother, Kline, 23 years old, a veteran of the world war. He had supported them for twenty years. He had educated his younger brother.

"Why, he called us just before 7 o'clock, and said he was coming home that he was through," the father truthfully explained. "After that I received no word from him. And then they told me—"

George Lyons, present secretary and treasurer of the Windsor concern, was called.

Their Trusted Employ.

"Mr. Dietrich was our most valued employe," he said. "He had access to all parts of the plant, and we trusted him implicitly. He had a perfect right to be where he was, and was the only man in the office with a combination to the safe."

"I can't understand how it could have happened. He had been with the firm for twenty years. He was secretary and treasurer up to last January, when there was a reorganization."

No blame is attached to the police. It was a mistake that might have happened at any time in such a situation, they affirmed.

Accustomed to dealing with desperate criminals, they anticipated a gun battle with a bandit. Dietrich's attempted flight confirmed their suspicions.

Shot Himself; Feared Guns.

Dietrich was unmarried.

Fifteen years ago Dietrich was a school teacher in Kansas. On a return to Kansas in 1915 he accidentally shot himself and was laid up in the hospital for many months. He had a great fear of guns, his parents said.

The inquest will be held today.

INDEPENDENTS POLLING LARGE GERMAN VOTE

BERLIN, June 6.—Unofficial returns in the general elections in various parts of Germany indicate that the Independents have polled in great strength, all the industrial areas largely exceeding their last year poll. The German People's party, the former National Liberals, is leading up to the present bourgeois parties, but the German National party—former Conservatives—is also running strong.

The following figures, although provisional, indicate the trend of the balloting.

Northern Berlin—Majorities, 13,000 votes polled; Independents, 24,000; Democrats, 5,000; Center, 2,000; German People's party, 11,000; German National party, 10,000; Communists, 1,000.

Hall—Majorities, 10,000; Independents, 24,000; Democrats, 12,000; Center, 15,000; German People's, 20,000; German National, 17,000; Communists, scattering.

Frankfort—Majorities, 21,000; Independents, 12,000; Democrats, 8,000; Center, 8,000; German People's, 9,000; German National, 6,000; Communists, 5,000.

SENATE STORES PLUMS FOR G. O. P. VICTORY FEAST

Much Patronage Goes to November Winners.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—Possibility of a refusal by the senate to confirm important presidential appointments next winter, in the event of the election of a Republican president, is causing uneasiness among present and prospective appointees.

With the creation of seven new $12,000 jobs on the shipping board, under the act signed by the president yesterday, with 200 executive appointments unconfirmed when congress adjourned and with a number of members of important boards coming up for reappointment during the summer and fall, the political aspects of the situation are certain to cause trouble.

Patronage Held Open.

Inasmuch as congress does not meet again until after the election, Republican senators make no secret of their intention to exercise more than ordinary discrimination in voting confirmations next winter in case a Republican president is to take office on March 4. Failure of congress to have confirmed appointments by that date will mean that the next president will have a free hand in filling the places.

President Wilson may experience some difficulty in finding men of $12,000 salary to take places on the shipping board, in view of the uncertainty regarding confirmation. Two must come from the Atlantic coast, two from the Pacific coast, one from the gulf coast, one from a state bordering on the great lakes, and one from an interior state. The five members of the present board draw only $7,500 each.

Benson's Reappointment Probable.

It is expected that Admiral Benson, the present chairman, and John A. Donald of New York, also a member, will be reappointed as the two Atlantic coast representatives. Raymond B. Stevens of New Hampshire, a member of the present board, has resigned. There are two vacancies on the present board. The appointment of Martin J. Allen of Wisconsin to one of these is one of those the senate failed to confirm. It is expected that Mr. Gillen may be given a recess appointment as the great lakes member of the new board. Secretary of Commerce Alexander, who formerly was chairman of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, is reported to be slated for transfer to the shipping board as the member from an interior state, his home being in Missouri. This will leave three appointments to be made, two from the Pacific and one from the gulf states coast.

Commerce Commission Open.

The appointments to membership on the interstate commerce commission, two of whom were to fill the new places created by the transportation act, were among those which the senate failed to confirm. These were Mark W. Potter, Henry Jones Ford, and James Duncan, a railroad attorney, a university professor and a labor union man.

John Skelton Williams, whose appointment as controller of the currency never has been confirmed, is one of those slated for retirement on March 4, 1921, if a Republican becomes president.

TWO ROBBER SUSPECTS JAILED.

James A. Walsh, 6019 Newgard avenue, and William Chaserna, 6828 Sheridan road, are being held at the Elmore street station for identification by victims of robbers. Both had a revolver when arrested yesterday. Walsh is at present waiting trial on a charge of highway robbery, and was out on bonds of $10,000.

'RIGHT OF LABOR TO STRIKE TOPS PUBLIC WELFARE'

Weapon of Workmen Upheld by Gompers.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—Replying to a question as to the rights of the public in strikes, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued today, declared that "the public has no rights which are superior to the toilers' right to live and to his right to defend himself against oppression."

The statement was an answer to queries propounded to him by Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas in their recent joint debate in New York relative to the workings of the new Kansas Industrial court. Mr. Gompers said he had not been able to do full justice to the question of the rights of the public in the debate, and has elaborated his views on the subject.

Rights of Unions.

"The question propounded by Gov. Allen is an inquiry as to whether the public has any rights when strikes affect production or distribution of the necessities of life, thus threatening the public peace, and impairing the public health," said Mr. Gompers. "In such cases the public, including union men, has rights and the striking union usually is first to recognize those rights. Few strikes affecting production or distribution actually threaten the public peace, and fewer become a menace to the public health."

"When but a few were organized, when employers were able to dictate and enforce their will, there was no great outcry against strikes. So long

OLD WORLD AND NEW TO BE PRESENTED IN PAGEANT BY GIRLS

Miss Mary Tapper and Miss Katherine Lytton, both of Highland Park, will take leading parts in a pageant called "The Old World and the New," which will be the principal feature of the fiftieth anniversary celebration, and incidentally the commencement day exercises, to be held tomorrow at Kenner hall, Kenosha. The costumes and stage settings were designed and made in the school studio.

A lantern parade through the grounds will follow the production, and commencement week will close Wednesday, with an "old girls' banquet."

as labor was ineffective and unable to protest there was little concern for labor.

To Maintain Strikes.

"So far as labor is concerned, the right to strike must be and will be maintained not only as a measure of self-defense and self-advancement but as a measure necessary to public progress."

"The right to strike, with all its advantages, is an agency of progress, a buttress of manhood, of health, and vigor, a promoter of public thought and education—an instrument for good, democratic in concept and essential to freedom. Its greatest justification is found in its results."

HELD FOR FINE PRESCRIPTION.

Thomas Kelly, 2946 Washington boulevard, employed in the county clerk's office, is under arrest charged with trying to obtain whiskey on a forged prescription. He said he got the prescription from a county building employee.

CHICAGO LABOR DEMANDS LARKIN GET NEW TRIAL

A resolution demanding a new trial for James Larkin, the Irish labor leader, who was convicted recently of criminal anarchy and sentenced to five years penal servitude in Sing Sing, was passed at yesterday's meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The resolution termed the trial unfair and declared it showed the "cooperation of the anti-labor forces in the state of New York and the United States with the efforts of the British imperial government to repress by force the struggle of Irish labor for industrial and political freedom." A call was made upon organized labor of America to support the Chicago Federation in this demand. Considerable discussion was devoted to the present waiters' and cooks' strike in many of the leading hotels, clubs and restaurants. John Stagg, president of the Cooks' union, asserted the strikers were not receiving the cooperation of the other unions whose members were delivering supplies to hotels.

This is distinctly a Rough Straw season for men, and the KNOX leadership is pronounced in this style.

There are several fine designs to select from at about your own price, the lowest at $5 and the highest at $12.

Natural colors are favored, so of course the particularly distinctive KNOX Straws are in the natural straw.

Small-Car Owners—Get Your Goodyears While You Can

You know what it was last year, and the year before that—scarcely a Goodyear Tire in the 30x3-, 30x3½- or 31 x 4-inch size to be found on a dealer's shelves anywhere.

This year promises to be the same; present stocks are melting swiftly away, at a rate beyond anything in our experience.

Although we have in full operation the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes, we cannot guarantee to supply enough Goodyears to go 'round.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, and want true Goodyear mileage and economy this summer, visit your Goodyear Service Station Dealer without delay.

WAR, ENSLAVEMENT OF WOMEN, GAVE THEM FREEDOM!

All Women Soon to Vote,
Mrs. Catt Says.

GENEVA, June 6.—At the opening of the Congress of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the American Woman Suffrage association, addressed the Congress on the progress of the movement throughout the world. "For the suffragists of the world a few facts stand forth with great clarity," Mrs. Catt said. "The first and greatest is that the political liberation of women was towed up out of the war chaos like an isolated mountain when the world was in the making. War, the undoubted original cause of the humiliating, age-old subjugation of women the world around, was the combined enemy of their emancipation; war has tendered to the women of many lands their political freedom. Strange, bewildering fact! All Women Soon to Vote."

The Latin and Oriental countries held out but that will not be long. Roumania, the first Latin country to extend the vote to women, has already led the way, the others will follow. I believe no country in Europe except Turkey now is without a woman suffrage association. Women will vote wherever men do.

It was in the United States that the first woman suffrage convention was held and the first organized woman suffrage movement in the world began. That was 72 years ago.

"To liberal has the United States been in the matter of man suffrage. Fifteen out of the forty-eight states have allowed men to vote who were not yet citizens and several still do, and seem to see nothing inconsistent in permitting an illiterate non-tax-paying alien to vote while denying that privilege to American-born, intelligent, capable women."

Staggering, But True.

"Incredible, you say. It is, astounding and unbelievable. It staggers and astounds one. Should you ask, why? I answer, there are 'excuses' but no defense. The great, bare, bald fact is there."

In 70 years, in a land wherein man ever made a sacrifice for a woman have given their all to it, and their country has not yet claimed their task completed."

Albanians Slay Italians;
Warships Shell Alessio

LONDON, June 6.—Albanian insurgents have annihilated an Italian battalion near Alessio, an Italian warship have shelled that city, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, quoting a report from Belgrade.

Other skirmishes are said to have occurred near Scutari and Mon, where the Italians have been ordered to retreat.

'UNADULTERATED AMERICANISM' TO BE FLAG DAY KEYNOTE

Dr. B. J. Cigrand, president of the National Flag Day association, has appointed Mrs. Augusta McAllister, Mrs. M. R. No-

DR. B. J. CIGRAND.

Yak, Mrs. Julia A. Ellis, James Edgar Brown, and Mrs. Cigrand are members of the executive committee to make arrangements for the Flag day celebration next Monday.

Dr. Cigrand urges that speakers make no reference to political or religious matters, and that addresses be devoted to Americanism. Societies, clubs, and lodges have been requested to appoint their committees at once and to arrange their programs.

DANIELS ANGRY AT STINGY AIR BUDGET OF NAVY

Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—Failure of Congress to appropriate as much as was requested for naval aviation drew a criticism from Secretary of the Navy Daniels today. The secretary took a shot at Republicans in Congress, and particularly Representative Mondell, the party leader in the house, who boasted of a reduction of $139,851,680 in all naval estimates.

"As a matter of fact," Secretary Daniels said, discussing the annual naval appropriation bill, "the bill only postpones expenditures until after the election, and makes no reductions except at the cost of naval efficiency."

Secretary Daniels aired three other grievances—failure to make provision for a desired naval expansion on the Pacific, failure to authorize the construction of a single new ship, and failure to appropriate sufficient money to repair and keep in condition the ships of the fleet.

GEDDES SWINGS U. S. TO ENGLAND, PERTINAX SAYS

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.] [Copyright, 1920.]

PARIS, June 6.—At the end of a long article reviewing the presidential election situation in the United States, Pertinax, in the Echo de Paris, points to the good work being done by Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador in America, in winning opinion for England at a time when it does good.

Pertinax recommends that France replace Ambassador Jusserand with an ambassador who can go to America and banquets and meetings and make popular speeches for France.

TREASURY AID CHANTS REQUIEM FOR BONUS BILL

Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—That ex-service men who have advocated bonus legislation will change their view, was predicted today by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lettingwell.

Mr. Lettingwell made public correspondence with an unnamed veteran who severely criticized him for a speech condemning bonus legislation. The treasury official said his letter to the man brought a reply "apologizing for ill-considered remarks."

"The government of the United States has been called to raise $37-500,000,000 since the declaration of war," Lettingwell's letter to the ex-service man reads.

"The people of America are struggling under the burden of the war debt and the war taxes. In these circumstances for the government to attempt to raise the vast sum demanded by the advocates of the bonus would spell disaster."

Wood Alcohol Cognac Kills U. S. Soldier on Rhine

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [By Special Cable.]

COBLENZ, June 6.—Corporal Martin Larkling of the 8th U. S. infantry is dead and three other soldiers are dangerously ill as a result of drinking fake cognac on Thursday containing 80 per cent wood alcohol.

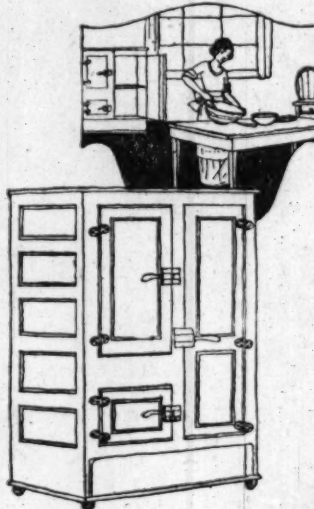

The seller, a German, came from the army and analyzed all cognac in stock hereafter.

The Germans mix alcohol and water, attach a fancy label, and sell it on the sly as cognac. Sale of cognac to soldiers always has been forbidden.

By Caroline Sanborn.

It is no news to many of you that William Faversham is a splendid actor. He has been for some time. But because he has turned his attention to the screen so recently, he probably will interest all of you to know that he makes good once again in this new picture of his.

Ernest Stackpole's "The Man Who Lost Himself" deals with the strange complications that arise from the meeting of two men who look exactly alike. One is a disolute English earl; the other, a New Yorker, Victor Jones. By a trick of fate the problems and struggles of the former become the legacy of the latter. What he does to them with his good old American wallop makes as clean and entertaining a play as you could wish.

There is so little of the double role it couldn't weary the feeblest brain. And Mr. Faversham is equipped with sufficient dynamic personality to carry out a much harder task. You won't be disappointed in him if you go with high expectations.

Similar praise can easily be awarded Hedda Hopper. (She is really Mrs. De Wolf Hopper, you know) Her work is excellent. She has no need for the often too startling beauty of many screen heroines. The gods endowed her with an abundance of that indefinable something of which the poets sing. To this they added the power to act.

So, although the story is not particularly original, and in spite of a few loose ends, you'll find "The Man Who Lost Himself" well worth your while.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Not odd or even, but odd and uneven, is the game which these designers play with the home of our new summer frocks. Nearly all of these, particularly those from abroad, show some variation of treatment in panel and drape, and the result is that every hem looks as if it were a separate inspiration. In the above straight line frock of bronze charmeuse the unevenness of outline is produced by two side panels longer than the skirt under which they fold. The trimming is bronze metal thread and the tassels so much used this summer are of bronze silk.

FIGHTING GARDEN PESTS

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Fighting the insects and diseases in the garden is about as important as hoeing and watering the plants. An enormous acreage has been planted to garden crops this spring in the suburbs of Chicago as well as on the farms. Many of the gardens are cared for by persons of little or no experience. The garden situation has been discouraging so far. Because of the cold, rainy weather, the vegetable crops have made a poor start. Plants raised under cover had to be held in the hothouse or cold frames so long that many of them died shortly after they were transplanted.

The growth of most plants has been seriously handicapped by the cool nights. The plants are so weak and are making such a slow growth they are especially susceptible to the attacks of insects and diseases. A heavy loss from these sources may be expected, but much of this can be prevented by timely spraying, which may be done in a small cost. Amateurs can profit by visiting experienced gardeners and asking questions. Spraying and dusting materials and the necessary equipment should be obtained this week. A few of the pests are already in the gardens, and the fight against them should be started immediately.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Don't Be Sure.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am very much in love with a boy two years older. Sometimes he speaks to me; sometimes he doesn't speak, but smiles at me. He tells my cousin that he loves me. Would he tell my cousin such a thing if he meant it? How can I tell if he really loves me? I would be very glad to know."—Blue Eyes.

Love has a queer effect on him, eh, Blue Eyes? It's a way with it, though. Maybe he does love you and hasn't the nerve to tell it to your face. But don't be sure until you do get it from his lips.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

H. M.: AFTER SHAVING YOUR lip is red? Maybe it's red when you don't shave, but its blueness are hidden under the adornment. Are you trying to be funny with me, H. M.? You'd better take care or I'll put you on a diet that will reduce you to a decimal point.

A Friend in Need

Sally Joy Brown.

I want to be the medium through which the friend in need and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown its usefulness that will make some fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail a stamped addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

Here's Place for Old Records.

"I let Chicago two years ago to go on a homestead sixty miles from a town, and I wonder if there is any one who has any disc phonograph records that he doesn't care for, as we have not been able to buy any since we left Chicago, and I would gladly pay postage or express to get the records. I get very lonesome at times and music would cheer me up."

—Mrs. O. P.

We all of us know how quickly we can tire of records; surely there are some who are overstocked with records and would be glad to divide with Mrs. O. P.

Oh! the Milkman forgot us this morning!

What a calamity—but how easily remedied if one is just acquainted with

Borden's Evaporated Milk

On that particular morning, for instance, serve Borden's Evaporated Milk in the coffee, make some light crispy pop-overs, using a cup of Borden's Evaporated Milk in beating them up, and then with the bacon and eggs what more tasty breakfast could you ask?

Always have Borden's Evaporated Milk on hand; it is the ideal aid in every cooking emergency. Order at least a half-dozen cans from your grocer, you will find it mighty convenient to have a supply on your pantry shelf.

These June Sales

Their significance is immediately apparent. Nowhere, in the merchandise these sales present, is there seen any evidence of haste in assembling, any sacrifice of that standard of quality which is the fundamental of sales-events at this store. And always pricings are conspicuously moderate.

This characterizes not only the selling events that come with each June—but also these certain other sales that are peculiar to this June and are in announcement here.

In the June Sale May Be Chosen Fine Silver Specially Priced

This special pricing is in effect upon Sheffield plate, sterling silver, hand-hammered silver and the handsome reproductions of Dutch silver.

Certain Articles Cited As Typical Values—

Sterling silver candlesticks, simple and beautiful in design, are priced $22 pair.

Many other groups afford excellent values. If one has a bride and girl graduate to remember this June here are unusual buying advantages in this sale.

Test this sale where the need dictates. It will prove, we believe, splendidly responsive. For here are the most desired among negligees.

Styles are varied enough to meet practically every preference. And prices, remarkably low as they are, cannot convey in full measure the values they represent.
